

Continuous Process of Effective RBEI Coaching

This graphic depicts a cycle that represents the continuous process of effective RBEI coaching. Each step connects to the next—beginning with observation, moving through planning, interaction, and co-created action, and culminating in reflection through shared video or work samples. Together, these interconnected steps illustrate how ongoing collaboration supports professional growth and the consistent use of evidence-based practices in early intervention.

